Quick-adapting, full-coverage performance shirt, the NRS Men's Varial Hoodie features an all-in-one hoodie and neck gaiter, plus thumbholes. This Silkweight Varial breathes freely, dries quick and delivers advanced sun protection.

- Built from 100% recycled material, the technical fabric enhances the body's natural cooling process by wicking excess moisture and drying quickly while also providing UPF 50+ sun protection
 - Integrated antimicrobial elements in the fabric prevent the build-up of funky smells
 - Our seam placement avoids high-friction zones, enhancing athletic performance and letting you row, paddle and swim in comfort
 - Slightly dropped rear hem provides additional coverage
 - Laser-cut thumbholes extend sun protection to the tops of your hands without adding unnecessary bulk to the cuffs
 - Sun hood and neck gaiter combo lets you adjust to conditions on the fly, and on the water, without taking off the shirt
 - Laser-cut holes in the neck gaiter releases excess moisture preventing condensation build-up on glasses
 - Features a small loop and plastic button to secure the hood around the face
 - Fit: Regular fit
 - Collections: Silkweight
 - Fabric: 85% recycled polyester, 15% recycled spandex
