Matrix Aquos Ultra fishing reel - precision and lightness for your fishing adventure

Discover the Matrix Aquos Ultra fishing reel - the perfect choice for discerning anglers who value quality and performance. This fishing reel has been specially developed to excel at both float and feeder fishing. With its robust construction and sophisticated features, it is the ideal addition to your fishing equipment.

Advantages of the Matrix Aquos Ultra fishing reel:

- Super-light graphite body: despite its stability, the reel remains pleasantly light and enables fatigue-free fishing.
- Ultra-smooth multi-disc drag system: This drag system ensures precise control and a smooth retrieve, even with a strong pull.
- High-quality aluminium spool: Precisely manufactured for smooth line take-up and a long service life.
- Optimum gear ratio: Offers a balanced ratio between line take-up and effort.
- Robust 6+1 stainless steel ball bearings: Guarantee smooth and reliable operation, even under difficult conditions.
- Wide range of size options: Available in 3000, 4000 and 5000 models to suit different fishing techniques and conditions.

The Matrix Aquos Ultra fishing reel combines advanced technology with sophisticated design and offers specific advantages in each size. The 3000 model is perfect for light float and feeder fishing, while the 4000 model offers extra power for more intensive fishing techniques. The robust 5000 reel provides even more power for feeder fishing.

Each variant of the Aquos Ultra reel impresses with its high line capacity and comfortable line retrieval, which gives you more control and precision when fishing. Thanks to the separate spare spools, you are ideally equipped for any situation.

These fishing reels offer a perfect combination of performance, reliability and flexibility that both beginners and experienced anglers will appreciate.
