NRS Titanium Pilot Messer

The NRS Titanium Pilot Knife is the ideal companion for professionals or enthusiasts looking for a longer blade and versatility for their adventures in salt and brackish water. Made from titanium, this kayak knife is ultra-light, stronger than steel and retains its sharpness over time. The corrosion-resistant titanium blade makes it a reliable tool for any use in the water.

The low-profile Thumbs Up Sheath allows for quick opening and secures the blade tightly while opening effortlessly with one hand with a flick of the thumb. The sheath can be firmly attached to a PFD lanyard, and the lanyard attachment point on the knife handle further prevents loss in rough waters and doubles as a valve spanner for an oxygen cylinder.

The ergonomic design with an asymmetrical handle and a blunt blade tip ensures correct blade alignment and helps prevent injuries. The partially serrated edge and "reverse scallop" serration make it easy to cut a variety of materials, while the all-weather G10 handle with hand contour and rubberised grip provides maximum control, even in wet environments.
