Delphin Magma Square cage feeder in wine red camo

Experience the Delphin Magma Square cage feeder, an innovative feeder fishing product that impresses with both its quality and its design. Designed in the fascinating wine red camo colour, this cage feeder is specially made to remain almost invisible under water - an advantage that only the stainless steel cage feeder from Delphin can offer.

The square stainless steel cage feeder is robustly constructed and prevents overpressure when filling, which enables the feed to be evenly distributed in the water. Thanks to its four pointed protrusions at the bottom, it offers excellent grip on the bottom of the water, even in strong currents or when hungry fish are at work.

An integrated swivel on the moving part facilitates quick and secure attachment to your feeder mount. Available in different weights and sizes (S, M, L), the Delphin Magma Square fishing feeder is the perfect choice for any angler who wants to customise their tackle to their specific requirements.
