Jenzi Landing Net Premium Big Pread. Is it flexible or stable? Without question, it is both FLEXIBLE and STABLE! All in one.

It is no mystery that this landing net, which has been created by Jenzi many years ago and has a unique folding system is the undisputed number one on the international market.

The weak point of landing nets is often the locking bracket. This is where Jenzi shines: the Premium "BIG PREAD" landing net has an ingeniously thoughtful and precisely constructed locking bracket mechanism. In the opened state the bracket arms are catching sideways into the joint. This way the bracket arms are safely connected to the landing net handle. To close the landing net just press the two side buttons and the landing net will close itself easily.

Many tried to copy this unique system, but the result was often cheap poor quality products. To prevent this Jenzi worked hard to improve this number one system even further and made it almost untouchable:

- an even stronger bracket system with professional aluminium arms
- an even stronger aluminium handle with "Pread profile" and an attached measuring tape
- an even stronger fitting for a continuous locking
- now with a rubber net, a special net for safe fish landing without the hook getting caught up in the net
- "Mesh-Net" - the net with the optimal mesh size, light and soft, so the fish is treated with respect
